Litigation; Products Liability Law

Andrew Rothenberger is a member of the Firm's Products Liability practice group. He defends individuals, businesses, and insurance carriers in a wide array cases.

Andrew knows how to litigate complex matters, but he always keeps the goal of avoiding costly litigation in mind. Along those lines, he litigated a case involving over 20 separate lawsuits consolidated into a single action; he also represented a client to settle an obvious liability high exposure case without enduring the expenses associated with defending a lawsuit. Andrew also worked with a Fortune 100 company to overhaul its statewide multidistrict litigation strategy in the face of several multimillion dollar verdicts. From minor disputes to catastrophic injuries, Andrew has represented businesses in many industries including: motor vehicles, component parts, industrial equipment, and pharmaceuticals.

Prior to his legal career, Andrew served as an Airborne Cryptologic Mandarin Linguist in the US Air Force, where he supported Operation Enduring Freedom and augmented special operations forces in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. Andrew then spent three years training multinational military forces in Afghanistan.

In his free time, Andrew also serves as a board member for the Veterans Business Network of Southern California (501c3), is a Health and Wellness Co-chair for the Young Lawyer's Division of the Orange County Bar Association (OCBA), and is a member of the OCBA's Veteran and Military Committee. Andrew has been recognized as a 2020 "Southern California Rising Star" by Super Lawyers.
