

Benjamin C. Ellis

San Francisco, California
Attorney

P (415) 296-1696
F (415) 227-0770
bellis@buchalter.com

Areas of Practice & Industry Specialties

Energy & Natural Resources; Government, Regulatory & Administrative Law; Real Estate; Chemical Law & Prop 65

Benjamin Ellis is a member of the Energy & Natural Resources Practice Group in the Firm's San Francisco office. Mr. Ellis offers his clients wide-ranging knowledge on environmental issues, having consulted on both the legal and business sides of matters relating to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), the Clean Air Act, the Clean Water Act and energy law at both the state and federal levels. He has worked closely with government entities, including the Department of Toxic Substance Control, the California Public Utility Commission, the California Air Resources Board, the South Coast Air Quality Management District, the Regional Water Quality Control Boards for the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay Regions, the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority, and the California Department of Transportation.

Mr. Ellis is well-versed in some of California's most challenging and controversial issues, such as water contamination, permitting disputes, soil remediation, hazardous waste management, CERCLA and toxic exposure. He is also knowledgeable in matters pertaining to land use issues at the local, regional, state and federal levels.

Education

Mr. Ellis earned his J.D. with a concentration in environmental law from Vermont Law School in 2013. Mr. Ellis received his B.A. from The Evergreen State College.

Bar Admissions

- California

Languages

- Japanese
- Spanish