Areas of Practice & Industry Specialties

Products Liability Law; Litigation; Mortgage Banking; Alternative Lenders

Brandon Q. Tran represents banks and financial institutions, and other corporations, large and small, in business litigation matters in both state and federal courts. He has wide-ranging experience in general business and commercial litigation matters, including lender liability, misappropriation of trade secrets, fraud, unfair competition, breaches of contract, mechanic's liens, stop notices, receiverships, and class actions. He also has experience in real estate litigation, representing design builders and design professionals. In addition to other facets of the litigation process, Mr. Tran advises his clients on alternative dispute resolution options that are available in both state and federal court, such as mediation and arbitration.

Mr. Tran recently obtained a defense verdict in favor of a bank in an action filed by former borrower in the United States Bankruptcy Court, Central District of California. In the action against the bank, the former borrower alleged claims for lender liability and sought damages totaling over $10 million.

Mr. Tran also regularly obtains judgments in favor of his clients before trial. He regularly files Motions to Dismiss and Demurrers when they may result in an early end to what is otherwise costly litigation.
