Daniel Wu is a Shareholder in the Los Angeles office and is a member of the Firm's Litigation Practice Group. Mr. Wu's litigation practice is broad based, with a focus on financial institutions, commercial and business litigation, as well as intellectual property litigation. Prior to joining Buchalter, Mr. Wu was a Partner with a global Am Law 100 firm where he practiced complex commercial litigation.

Mr. Wu represents regional and national banks and other financial institutions in litigation and commercial workouts. He is particularly experienced in the areas of bank operations, business torts, breach of contract, forgeries and alterations, organized crime schemes, unfair competition and unfair business claims, creditor's rights/bankruptcy, real estate based transactions and secured transactions. Mr. Wu also represents clients from various industries in general business and commercial litigation matters. His experience includes the prosecution and defense of complex breach of contract, fraud, unfair business competition, trade secret and business tort claims.

In addition to this experience, Mr. Wu also specializes in representing business entities involved in high-stakes patent and intellectual property litigation. His science background is particularly useful in technically complex patent matters. He has successfully represented clients in the prosecution and defense of numerous patent infringement and invalidity matters involving a broad range of technologies, including software, consumer products, mechanical devices, promotional products and medical devices. In connection with his intellectual property experience, Mr. Wu has litigated many complex trademark, copyright and misappropriation of trade secret matters.

Mr. Wu is a member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association and the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association. He was ranked as a top Attorney by Pasadena Magazine from 2011- 2015 and was a 2007 Recipient of Stakeholder 100 Award. Mr. Wu clerked for the California Department of Insurance, the State Bar of California Office of Enforcement, and served as a Judicial Extern to the Honorable Lawrence Crispo, Judge of the Superior Court, County of Los Angeles.
