Jack Scharringhausen is Senior Counsel in Buchalter Nemer's Los Angeles office and is a member of the Firm's Litigation Practice Group. His practice encompasses all aspects of commercial, real property, and financial institutions litigation in state and federal court, as well as mediation and arbitration proceedings. Jack's extensive experience includes representing clients in a wide variety of subjects, including lender liability, prejudgment remedies (judicial and non-judicial foreclosure actions, writs of attachment, and writs of possession), receiverships, collections, secured transactions, independent film finance litigation, trademark and copyright infringement, products liability, partnership disputes, elder abuse, and health care law. Jack also counsels business clients and has participated in and facilitated negotiations that helped resolve disputes to avoid litigation.

Representative Matters

- Acted as lead attorney in representing major financial institutions in enforcement of security interests against defaulting borrowers and collection matters against borrowers/guarantors, including securing writs of attachment, writs of possession, and third-party claims against defaulting borrowers/guarantors.
- Defended nationwide mortgage lender in multi-district litigation involving over 250 actions.
- Represented major pharmaceutical company in defense of claims of product liability in multiple multi-district litigation proceedings to beneficial outcomes for client.
- Prosecuted numerous trademark and copyright infringement lawsuits against distributors of pirated media, frequently prevailing on summary judgment.
- Successfully defended managed healthcare plan operators in several lawsuits by providers seeking recovery of additional fees.

In both 2008 and 2009, Jack was individually selected by Super Lawyers magazine as a "Super Lawyers Rising Star."
